Separation Allowance - [REDACTED]

1. Herewith are various memorandums pertaining to the question of entitlement of subject employee to a separation allowance.

2. Because of doubt as to the legality of paying a separation allowance under the circumstances cited, the case was forwarded to the General Counsel for an opinion on that point. As you will note from the General Counsel's memo of 2 October 1951, attached, he states that there is no legal objection to the payment, but discusses the considerations upon which such an allowance should be granted, and advises that there is no requirement for a certification of reconciliation as suggested by your memo of 13 July 1951.

3. After review of the comments contained in the General Counsel's memo on this subject will you kindly forward the complete file to the Finance Division with a confirmation and/or indication of the action desired.
